

DEMOCRATS ARE SET TO CRUSH DIXIE REVOLT, ADOPT PLATFORM BOASTING OF 16-YEAR-RULE IN WASHINGTON, AND NAME TRUMAN - BARKLEY TICKET FOR THE CAMPAIGN

President Expected To Fly To Phila. Tonight To Appear at Session

A 3-DAY DELIBERATION

Truman Takes Full Control Once He Accepts Barkley As Running-Mate

By William K. Hutchinson (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PHILADELPHIA, July 14 (INS)—The Democrats are all set today to crush a Dixie revolt, adopt a platform boasting of their sixteen-year rule in Washington and then name a Truman-Barkley ticket for the fall campaign.

President Truman is expected to fly from Washington to Philadelphia to appear before the convention to appear before the convention with his running-mate tonight. The Democrats will make modern political history by jangling their political deliberations into three days.

The President took full control of the convention once he accepted Sen. Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, as his running mate. After that, Mr. Truman had his way on all matters, affecting the platform, the convention and future Democratic policies.

The Dixie revolt is sticking to the bitter end. It may have a fresh start next Saturday in Birmingham, when rebellious Democrats from at least nine southern states gather to decide their future program. They are talking now of starting a new fourth State's Rights Party.

The Southerners have met defeat at every hand. They lost out on a drive to restore the old two-thirds rule for nominating a President. If they had won, they would have regained the great prestige they held prior to 1919, when a nominee required a two-thirds vote to be nominated.

The southerners also threatened to fight the Civil Rights plank, approved by the Resolutions Committee. It was a modernization of the rather mild 1944 plank, which the southerners accepted without protest four years ago. But the platform failed to contain any reference to State's Rights, despite their united demand.

Rare Bucks County Clock Sold To a N. Y. Museum

DOYLESTOWN, July 14—The Metropolitan Museum of New York, N. Y., has purchased a grandfather's clock here, said to be one of the rarest in America.

The clock was purchased at a local shop. Miss Verna Bell, of the shop, who declined to reveal the price, said the works were made by William Housen, of Philadelphia, in 1779, and the case was made by Jonathan Gostelowe. The clock, which has a rocking ship behind the dial, was owned by the first mayor of Philadelphia and was not out of the Powell family until it was purchased by the local antique collector and sold to the museum.

Describing it as one of her most priceless possessions, Miss Bell said: "I always said if I sold that clock I'd be willing to go out of business."

She described the antique business as "slow," indicating that lovers of antiques are not spending money the way they used to.

The grandfather's clock was kept in the Bucks County Historical Society museum, here, for a number of years, although it had never been given to the society. It was owned by Amasa Worthington, one time well-known dealer in antiques.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and a legal 75-cent hourly minimum wage were demanded by the resolutions committee, drawing up a platform. The group, however, overrode State Department suggestions by approving outright pledges to the new State of Israel. The South continued to fight a strong civil rights plank.

Representative Rayburn, addressing the convention last night as permanent chairman, urged the Democrats to act the part of a party that had been in the majority for 16 years. He said the party stood "between two false fronts." "On the right," he said, stands the Dewey-Warren "front of privilege," while "on the left threatened the Pled Piper of Poliburo," Henry A. Wallace. The evening session opened with a service honoring the nation's war dead and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

John L. Lewis called off the captive mine strike and ordered the men back to work today. The operators signed a contract that they said they felt to be illegal after Mr. Lewis had agreed to abide by the procedure of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Retail meat prices here rose yesterday and more increases were indicated. On Monday retail coal prices will go up 50 cents to $1.25 a ton to record highs.

ISRAELI, ARAB UNITS ARE IN HEAVY COMBAT

Scene of Engagement is Tireh Triangle, South of Port of Haifa

IRAQI BACK ARABS

By Benn Feller (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
TEL AVIV, July 14 (INS)—Israeli army units and Arab irregulars were locked in heavy battle today in the Tireh triangle five miles south of the port of Haifa.

The engagement in the north was matched by stiff battling in the south around Negba, 28 miles south of Tel Aviv, and in the Isdud region, 22 miles below the Israeli capital.

Communication with the Tireh battle area was difficult. Telephone connections between Haifa and Tel Aviv were cut off as a result of yesterday's aerial assault on Haifa.

The Israelis troops attacked the Arabs around Tireh after reinforced Arab units renewed action against Jewish transport along the main highway leading south from Haifa.

Arab shelling harassed communications and compelled civilian traffic to make a circuitous detour. The Arab irregulars, under command of Fawzi El-Kawukji, were reported backed up by Iraqi units.

Striking out behind Arab lines in the Negba area, Israeli commandos ambushed a motorized company of Egyptians.

The Israelis claimed that half of the Egyptian force was killed, with the remainder fleeing in panic.

A Jewish communique reported that the commandos seized many Egyptian guns along with other arms.

A communique issued in Cairo concerning the battling west of Negba asserted that the Jewish attack was repulsed and that 100 of the Jews were killed.

The Egyptians reported that their own forces launched a new attack

Boy's Eye Seriously Hurt When Struck by Stone

A five-year-old boy was seriously injured when hit in the eye by a stone Monday morning while playing near his home on Lafayette street. The stone was thrown by one of the child's playmates.

The injured boy is Anthony Gilardi, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gilardi, 343 Lafayette street.

There were no witnesses to the accident, but it is believed that the Gilardi boy was standing on the pavement when one of his playmates threw a stone that struck Gilardi in the eye. He was taken to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, where hospital authorities said that his condition was good, but could release no information as to whether the lad would lose sight of the eye. The lad will remain there for further treatment.

DEFECTIVE EQUIPMENT OFTEN CAUSES INJURY

Too Late To Do Anything When Breakdowns Occur En Route

HEED THE WARNINGS

By Dr. Herbert J. Stack, Director, Center for Safety Education, New York University

This is the ninth of a series of 10 articles on street and highway safety, written by nationally recognized accident prevention specialists and published by The Courier in the interest of greater traffic safety.

It is usually too late to do anything about a defective steering wheel that suddenly fails to function when you are rounding a curve, or the headlamps that go out on an unfamiliar road, or the horn that is silent when you need it on split-second notice, or the right front tire—which has been looking badly lately—that blows out on a slippery highway. When these things happen, death, injury and destruction of costly property usually result, but they are no "acts of God." They are wholly preventable, because they are wholly preventable.

These days a tremendous effort is being put forth all over the nation to reduce the growing threat of traffic accidents. Yet more than 30,000 persons were killed last year, and a vehicle defect was reported as a contributing cause in 18 percent of these fatal accidents. Here is one factor in traffic accidents

Yardley To Consider Water Works Purchase

A 15 per cent increase in water rates levied on Yardley residents by the Yardley Water and Power Company has prompted borough council to investigate the possibility of purchasing and operating the water works.

A special meeting of council will be held Wednesday night, July 21, to discuss the plan. At the same time, W. L. Lantz, member of the J. H. and W. L. Lantz Engineering Corp., Trucksville, will confer with council on a proposal that his firm take over operation of the plant, should it come under borough control.

The Yardley Water and Power Company sent out notices to residents several weeks ago that the increase would take effect on July 1. Petitions presented to council by irate residents resulted in the governing body requesting a public hearing conducted by the Public Utility Commission and a deferment of the increase. No answer has been received from the commission on the request.

Yardley has purchased a new truck which will be used for the collection of garbage and ashes, road repairs and snow removal.

Donald Bennett has been hired to operate the truck and perform other duties for the borough. He will start on August 1, with the expiration of the borough's contract for such work.

LOWER PROPS

It will be a long time before government price supports of farm products are lowered appreciably under the law recently passed. Eventually government props will be variable-low in the case of crops that are abundant in supply and higher where a crop is scarce.

The present program of 90 per cent of parity support on most farm production continues until January. Then the 90 per cent parity program will remain in effect for the six basic crops—corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts.

But during 1949 the support of other crops will vary between 60 per cent and 90 per cent of parity.

At the end of 1949, a long range program takes over. Tobacco alone would be supported at 90 per cent, while support of other crops would range from 60 to 90 per cent. In case of a big surplus of wheat, the secretary of agriculture would lower the loan on wheat down toward 60 per cent of parity, except that a drop of more than five per cent would not be permitted in one year. The basis of figuring parity is to be liberalized.

Acreage quotas are provided for in corn, wheat, cotton and rice. Whenever the supply of any of these crops is 115 per cent of normal, a referendum of farmers is to be conducted on acreage controls.

Any of these provisions may be revised by the next congress. But as matters stand farm prices are approaching an era of lower government protection in years of surplus production that appear to be imminent.

SPARE THE WHIP!

A New York judge was furious as he bound over for grand jury action, a father who had whipped his 16-year-old daughter and raised great welts on her back.

The father was smug about it. He said he had to keep his child "morally and mentally straight," didn't he?

There are better ways of doing that. No whip ever made a brain work better or raised an IQ by a single percentage point. There is no evidence that whips improve morality. Fear of punishment may sometimes affect outward behavior, but when fear is substituted for sound standards, delinquency is likely to result when the child grows up and the whip is laid away.

Inside Your Congress

Southern Democracy

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

The incisively edited "Southern Weekly," published at Dallas, Texas, by Peter Molyneux, says: "South Should Support Republican Nominee." Mr. Molyneux thinks the Southern Democrats are poorly advised in basing their opposition to the national ticket on the civil rights issue alone.

Some Southern leaders say that if the Northern Democrats drop their civil rights plank they would "go along." But as Mr. Dewey will press even harder for various "force bills," this issue will lose importance in the campaign.

"The South," says Mr. Molyneux, points out, should stand on firmer ground than the civil rights issue. That is, the Constitution vs. the C.I.O. platform which has become the essence of the Truman program. It is the simple truth that the South has furnished the indispensable backbone of resistance to the second New Deal. When the Court Packing Bill came up in 1937, the G.O.P. was at the weakest point in history. It had only 15 Senators and 87 Congressmen. It was Southerners like Senators Glass and Byrd of Virginia, George of Georgia, Bailey of North Carolina and Congressman Summers of Texas who said "It shall not pass."

President Truman makes an issue of the G.O.P.-controlled Congress. But the previous Congress, with Democratic majorities in both Houses, defeated the same measures for which the President now blames the Republicans.

The Economic Bill of Rights cradle-to-the-grave program, first put forward by Roosevelt and adopted by Truman, was defeated in the 79th Congress when the Democrats were in control. The deadlock between Mr. Truman and the Democratic Congress elected with him in 1944, was as unyielding as that between Mr. Truman and the present Republican Congress. The present Congress has passed at least six major measures over Mr. Truman's veto. But the Republicans do not have the two-thirds majority necessary to override a veto. In other words, only Southern Democratic votes enable the G.O.P. to vote to the country this fall on a record which includes the Taft-Hartley Bill and the tax reduction bill.

Both in the 79th and 80th Congresses, it was a coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans that stood in Mr. Truman's way. Whichever party wins this fall, a similar coalition will continue to function.

It is such facts that cause the "Southern Weekly" to declare that it is time for the South to have an outright two-party system in national elections. And so in the open, the South has had a sort of two-party system for years. But the struggle has been fought out inside the Democratic Party where the primary election is the only one that counts.

But a real two-party system between parties, and not inside one party, would restore to the South its influence in national affairs.

which it lost in 1936 when it agreed to abandon the two-thirds rule in national Democratic conventions. The South would then be campaigned for by both parties.

Since the Civil War the Republican party has entered every campaign under the heavy handicap of the electoral votes of the Southern states. 1948 gives the G.O.P. its first good chance since Lincoln's time to remove this handicap. Has it the brains to make the effort?

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.

(Famous make-up advisor to the screen stars now writing for INS.)

HOLLYWOOD—Some women who actually aren't beautiful are generally regarded as beauties merely because their eyes are so attractive.

This always has and always will be so. Eyes which are either naturally beautiful or which have been groomed to a beautiful perfection invariably overshadow other grooming frailties.

The grooming modes of 1948 are very exacting in their demands for a superb degree of artistry in eye make-up. The fashionable make-up of this year is much less "made-up" and colorful in appearance than it has been during past seasons.

This diminishing of the make-up color tones will automatically make the eyes an even more dominant feature of the face than they have been in the past.

For the sake of full effectiveness and modernity in your glamour, then, it will pay you to check up on your eye make-up. Make sure it is equal to the task of furthering the beauty and perfection of your appearance.

Following are a few elementary, but highly important eye-grooming principles which you should bear in mind:

If, as most people do, you consider ovalness to be the most attractive and desirable of eye shapes, this effect may be created and furthered, even if your eyes are not as superbly oval as those of Loretta Young, for instance.

If you find that your eyes do lack in such ovalness, try using eyelash make-up more heavily on the lashes from the center of the eyes to those at the outer corners. This emphasis of these outer lashes will provide the illusionary effect of "drawing out" and apparently, elongating roundish eyes.

This same effect can be furthered to an even greater degree if, with an eyebrow pencil, you extend the line of the upper and lower lids at the outer corner of the eye. These drawn-in lines should originally be created very sharply and distinctly but should then be dulled to an unobtrusive and nearly invisible shadow with the fingertips.

To even further diminish the effect of eye roundness, also extend the eyebrow arch with pencil. Don't, however, elevate the arch of the brow if you have round eyes. Highly arched brows, particularly those with a very thin hair line, accentuate the effect of roundness.

If you consider your eyes too small to attractively compliment the other features of your face, you can make them seem larger by drawing a fine line with an eyebrow pencil, just below the lashes of the lower lid. Be sure to soften this line with the fingertip until it has become just a shadow.

Eyes which are too deep-set can be made more beautiful by blending eye-shadow outward from the center of the upper lid. The color should be shaded a trifle heavier on the outer area. Then, with the eye-brow pencil, carry a fine line outward from the center of the lower eye-lid, shading this line into a shadow.

Also, for these deep-set eyes, experiment with arching your eyebrows just a trifle lower than might ordinarily be the case.

Flattening the upper edge of the brows by removing a few hairs, and accentuating the lower edge with the eyebrow pencil, can often produce the desired effect. Be careful, not to emphasize this device to an exaggerated degree.

CHOOSE SUNNY DAY FOR THE TASK OF WASHING BLANKETS

By FLORA-MAY SAGUL

Home Economics Representative.

A dry, sunny day is an ideal time for washing blankets and storing them to protect them from moths.

No amount of mothproofing can replace soap and water cleanliness as the first step. Only after the soil of dust, dirt and greasy creams has been removed can moth preventives give best service.

The first step in laundering woolen blankets and other woolen articles, is to shake out dirt and dust, and remove stains. Prepare suds from a mild soap in lukewarm water. Wash the blanket three or four minutes in the washing machine. Extra soil on the binding may require extra hand washing or use of a soft brush and more soap. Rinse the blanket three or four times in lukewarm water. Each time the rinse water is changed, the article should either be squeezed out through a loose wringer, or tumbled about in the drier. Dry the blanket in a moderate temperature, avoiding both heat and intense cold.

To hang a blanket for drying stretch it over the line so it hangs by its middle rather than by the edges or end. While it dries shake the blanket slightly from time to time to bring back the fluffiness. When thoroughly dry, brush it to fluff up more of the surface.

Apply protection against moths as soon as possible after the blanket is thoroughly dry.

said they had 200 votes lined up against the President. Other estimates were not so high.

The President is all prepared for his victory. He will fly to Philadelphia, if weather permits, to accept the nomination. He will speak "off the cuff," a new habit developed since he made a well-received impromptu speech at a Washington Gridiron Club dinner.

His speech may open some new wounds in the hearts of Congressional Democrats. A report from Washington indicated he would slug what he has called "the second worst Congress in history." The Democrats in Congress wish he would remember that they were members of the Eightieth Congress he so harshly discredited.

The President proposes to talk about "housing," "prices," "social security," "displaced persons," "insurance" and "minimum wages." The President wants to fight out the campaign on these issues as he has raised them against the Republican Congress.

where absolute prevention is reasonably possible—one simple means by which it may be possible to save 5,000 lives every year.

Like the human body, an automobile gives advance warning of impending danger. The steering wheel becomes loose, it is no longer as sensitive as it was when new. The tread is gone on the tires, or the white brake strip may be showing, or possibly the automobile is groaning for want of grease. These are danger signs, literally shouting the alarm for immediate repairs.

All of the following parts of an automobile are essential to safe driving: Brakes, lights, steering mechanism, horn, rear-view mirrors, tires—including the spare tire, windshield wipers, heater, defroster, muffler and exhaust pipe. When they are in proper working order, studies show that accident chances are greatly lowered.

Most of the states require, in one form or another, that motor vehicles be maintained in a safe condition. Sixteen states and the District of Columbia require periodic inspection of the safety elements of motor vehicles at least once, and more often twice, each year. Legislators in many other states are giving consideration to the creation of required periodic motor vehicle inspection and repair.

Here are five major benefits to be derived from such motor vehicle inspection:

1. It improves the general standard of vehicle condition.
2. It maintains each automobile at a higher value level by lessening depreciation.
3. It affords opportunity to check motor and serial numbers actually on the vehicle against registration certificates, and in other ways assists in the enforcement of motor vehicle laws.

4. It improves the quality of garage workmanship in making adjustments and repairs.

5. It provides excellent opportunity for informing drivers concerning the condition of their cars and their responsibility for driving safely 365 days of the year.

Highway safety is the responsibility of the individual. Public support is necessary if wise traffic laws are to be enacted and intelligently enforced.

These men ARE FULL OF IDEAS

Meet seven neighbors of yours from Philadelphia Electric Company. Along with thousands of co-workers they are striving every day to keep electric service dependable and economical.

Improvement, naturally, is fathered by ideas. That's why your electric company goes "all out" to encourage suggestions from employees. As a consequence, hardly a day goes by that does not produce its quota of suggestions of better ways to do things.

Once a month the Employees' Suggestion Committee makes cash awards for the most workable of these ideas. During a recent month, these seven men led with the highest awards. Thirty-seven others received cash recognition.

So it goes month after month. From top officials to newest clerk, your neighbors at P.E. are in there pitching. All of which explains why electricity continues to serve you better year by year.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA
DURING the first six months of this year, we made big strides in meeting public demand for telephone service . . . and here are the highlights of our accomplishments during this period:
Construction of 10 new buildings was begun, and one new building was completed. Additions were completed to 3 others and work got under way on 6 more. Installation of 7 new central offices was finished, and installation of 5 others was started. 584 major or minor additions were either completed or begun.
Nearly 264,000 miles of wire (more than enough to encircle the earth 10 times) were added . . . and 135,035 new telephones were connected within the vast Pennsylvania system.
The number of people waiting for telephone service was reduced by 25,000 . . . but continuing demand meant that 59,000 people were still waiting.
Many of our customers need and want types of service other than what they now have.
But our first responsibility has been and must be to provide telephone service for those who have none.

Where the Money Comes from
The bulk of it—the lion's share—has come from the same source from which most of the money for future expansion must come: From people . . . those thousands of everyday people in all walks of life whose confidence in the integrity and continuous earning power of the Bell System encourages them to invest their savings in the securities of the telephone business.

MANDIO WRESTS
BATTING LEAD
FROM LUDWIG

"Mickey" Mandio, a student of Lock Haven State Teachers College and outfielder for the Democrat Club, has wrested the batting lead of the Bristol Suburban League from Barney Ludwig. Hitless in his last 10 times up has dropped Ludwig from 500 to 414, while the diminutive Mandio is batting the pill at a .438 clip.

"Freddie" Barbetta, first sacker for the "Saints" and Ludwig's team-mate, is now in third position with a .409 mark. These three are the only Suburban League players over the .400 mark.

"Joe" Elmer, Goodwill Hose, and Frank Elker, of the Hibernians, are in a deadlock for fourth position, with "Army" Fizzano, of Langhorne Legion, in sixth spot.

"Easy" Mama, of Voltz-Texaco, and "Pete" DeLuca, of the Fifth Ward Sporting Club, made the largest climb during the week, while "Wes" Ringgold, of the Lewis Lodge, climbed into the selected group with a .316 average.

The leading hurler of the circuit is Earl Wagner, who has pitched five consecutive victories since returning from Bradford, Pa., of the Pony League. Wagner hurled for the Hibernians, "Mike" Deitch, of St. Ann's has a 5 and 2 average, while Stanley Stevenson, of the Hibs, is throwing at a 5 and 3 pace.

The St. Ann's team is proving to be the best run scorers, "Rabbit" Palumbo has crossed the plate 36 times with "Lou" Sassi, second.

Your Commentator
By Jim Larkin
Dear vocal little feathered friends,
Whose a capella chorus blends
To brighten every summer day,
We like it-but I've this to say:
When you start in before five (a. m.)
Upon you I could commit mayhem.

IT HAPPENED IN JULY
1898 (21) Illinois and Wisconsin troops were too tough for Chief Black Hawk, so he quit in Wisconsin. 1870 (9) the Weather Bureau was established, but it has not yet improved the weather much. 1890 (10) Wyoming became a part of the U. S., with mutual benefit. 1898 (7) Hawaii joined us; the hula and ukuleles followed. 1919 (14) Many readers who were present may recall the capture of Solas and Belleau Wood, after fierce fighting in World War I.

RHYMED DEFINITIONS
Anything VAPID can't rank as best.
For it's lost its spirit and life and zest.
A word that of women is never a token:
TACIT, meaning silent; inferred but unspoken.

Marshmallow roasts—camp fires—great fun! Yet cl' debbil Danger is here, too, ready to catch persons—especially children—who may be careless around the flames. Do not ever use an inflammable fluid to start a fire when fuel is damp, or slow to ignite. And don't forget to extinguish a fire before leaving it.

Most paragraphs these days are writing odious wisecracks about the vicissitudes of picnics. That's just routine stuff. Chances are they enjoy the fun and added food flavor of an al fresco feed as much as you and I do.

Speaking of picnics—or any summer meal—I give you at no cost my wife's recipe for my idea of the finest of all drinks, her very special iced tea. In a suitable container make strong lemonade in quantity desired; put in ice cubes; then pour in the hot tea. Keep in refrigerator or Thermos bottle until time to serve. If mint is available, put a sprig in each glass when serving. (Let me know how you like it.)

Sometimes a perverse thunderstorm will interrupt a nice outing. If and when it does, remember that under a spreading chestnut—or any other kind of tree—is not the safest place to be when lightning is playing about. Head for some building, or your car.

I'M WISE, NEWSCASTER
"I'll be back in a moment with more news, but first a word from our sponsor."

No more can I, through that technique, Be held in expectation; For "news" of which you later speak Is not worth presentation.

Character check: Are you the impatient type that climbs the steps of an upward-moving escalator; or of the curious class that (just to see where you'd get) is tempted to walk up while the device is moving downward?

SAILBOAT REGATTA TO BE CONDUCTED SUNDAY

BURLINGTON, N. J., July 13—The annual sailboat regatta of the Lakewood Boat Club will be held on July 18 on the river here.

Sailboat skippers from Trenton to Philadelphia will be competing for prizes in the various classes and also for points toward the river championships sponsored by the Delaware River Yacht Racing Association.

Last year's regatta saw almost 50 boats competing and it is expected that the entry list for this year's affair will be even larger.

There will be several national champions of other years present plus a host of skippers who hope to dethrone these sail boat kings when this year's Nationals are held.

The Duster Class will have large representations from Riverton Yacht Club and Cooper River Yacht Club, while the strength in the Comet class will come from Red Dragon Canoe class. The Moth class will come from Riverton, while the group from Delaware River Yacht Club will have the largest delegation of Lighting skippers. Riverton will probably have the numerical strength in the Star class.

In addition to these, invitations have been extended to the Anchor Yacht Club, The Quaker City Yacht Club, the Farragut Sportsman's Association, plus the skippers who are not associated at present with any club.

Three races have been planned for the day, two of which will be class races and the third will be a free-for-all in two divisions, for those boats over sixteen feet long, and for those sixteen feet and under in length.

The winner of each class will receive a very beautiful model boat of his class and suitable prizes have been provided for the winners of the free-for-all.
